A Mother's Embrace

She's always there when times are hard,
 She heals my soul when my heart is scarred.
 By my side through thick and thin,
 Steadies me when my head spins

When nights are cold, and shadows creep,
 And fear evades my fragile sleep,
 Her gentle arms erase my fears,
 Her tender hand upon my face

She whispers,"It will be alright."
 Her love, my ever-guiding light.
 She loves me true, for who I am,
 Not marked or judged the way some can.
 A mum like her, who can find?
 Who she is, is one of a kind

Teacher Talk

Being a Kindergarten teacher has been one of the most joyful journeys of my life. Every day, I walk into a classroom filled with tiny footsteps, bright smiles, and endless curiosity. I have learnt that teaching the little ones isn't just about letters and numbers; it's about building confidence, shaping habits, and nurturing a love for learning.

I feel truly proud when I see my students try something new with excitement. That little spark in their eyes when they say, "Mam, I did it!" is what makes teaching so meaningful. Watching them grow from shy beginners to confident learners is the greatest reward I could ask for.

Over the years, I've realised that patience, love, and creativity matter more than anything. A warm smile, a gentle word, or a small encouragement can make a big difference in a child's day.

During my training years, I discovered the deeper purpose behind the profession. It wasn't simply about delivering lessons; it was about touching lives, building foundations, and shaping futures. The more time I spent around children, the more I felt a sense of belonging. Their innocence, honesty, and enthusiasm made me feel that this was exactly where I was meant to be.

Being a teacher fills me with a sense of purpose that is hard to describe. There is something incredibly rewarding about knowing that every smile I share, every story I tell, and every small lesson I teach contributes to a child's growth. The classroom has become a place where I feel both responsible and inspired.

Parent Talk

As a new parent at The Geekay World School, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the entire school community for the warm welcome our family and sons have received. Moving from Dubai to India was a challenging decision, and transitioning to a new school is a significant undertaking. We truly appreciate all the support that has helped our children settle in with confidence and ease.

I would especially like to acknowledge the dedication of the teaching staff, sports staff, and administrative team, whose support and guidance have played an important role in our children's adjustment. I also want to commend the school for its lunch programme. The effort put into providing a healthy, balanced, and appealing diet is truly appreciated. Additionally, the school's transport service deserves recognition. The punctuality, safety measures, and professionalism of the team have given us great peace of mind, knowing our sons travel comfortably and securely.

We look forward to the rest of the year with great enthusiasm and are thankful for the continuous efforts made by the school.
